

People talked about quake brain, but the Canterbury earthquakes, despite or because of this, generated amazing bursts of creativity: music, dance, astonishing street art; and poetry.

148 poems from 87 poets: here are sorrow, resignation, defiance, stoicism, humour black and wry, and everything in between.

YOU ARE INVITED TO THE LAUNCH OF LEAVING THE RED ZONE

~ poems from the Canterbury earthquakes, edited by James Norcliffe and Joanna Preston.

Venue: The Laboratory, 17 West Belt, Lincoln.

Monday 29 February 2016, 7.00 till 8.30pm.

Purchase at the Special Launch Price of $30 (RRP $39.95). Pay by cash, cheque, or pre-launch bank deposit into 03 1704 0049456 025.

Profits from sales will be donated to the Mayor's Earthquake Relief Fund.

Food and drink will be available to buy from 6.00pm. For full menu service book a table by phoning The Laboratory 325 3006.

---

ORDER FORM

If you cannot make it to the launch, order books here with free delivery within NZ.

EITHER

Post your order and cheque to Clerestory Press, PO Box 21-120, Christchurch 8143
Please send me ..... copies of Leaving the Red Zone at $39.95 per copy including P&P.

Name.....

Phone..... Email.....

Address.....

Total $..... enclosed

OR Bank deposit to 03 1704 0049456 025 (your name as reference) & tell us your details by phone +64 3 355 3588 or email clerestory@xtra.co.nz